the 1921 output based on 1920 prices would have been $16,808,456,015.52 a difference, or loss, of $7,248,456,67, caused by the drop in the price of lead, ing January and February. The average price of this metal, 5.17 cents a pound, for these months was used in valuing the total zinc output.

The low price of zinc during 1921 compelled all the producers to close.

abnormal conditions compelled practically all of the mines to suspend production early in the year.
